Relationships and Sex Education Policy

March 2019

Why Do We Teach Relationships and Sex Education?

The term Relationships and Sex Education (RSE) is used in this policy to emphasise the importance of learning about relationships. This policy refers to RSE rather than Sex and Relationships Education (SRE) except when referring to national guidance which uses the term SRE.

Our school's approach to RSE goes beyond the provision of biological information. We support The Sex Education Forum's definition of SRE: as learning about sex, sexuality, emotions, relationships, sexual health and ourselves. The Forum believes that learning about sex and relationships should be:

- an integral part of the lifelong learning process, beginning in early childhood and continuing throughout adult life
- an entitlement for all children and young people, which meets the needs of boys as well as girls; those who are heterosexual, lesbian, gay or bisexual; those with physical, learning or emotional difficulties; and those with a religious or faith tradition – in other words, everyone whatever their background, community or circumstance
- provided within a holistic context of emotional and social development across all settings.

(Sex and Sexuality Guidance 2003)

We focus on attitudes and values, and skills, as well as knowledge and understanding. This will include developing self-esteem, the skills to manage relationships and most importantly keep themselves safe in all their relationships.

Research has shown that young people who feel good about themselves, and are knowledgeable and confident about relationships and sex, are more likely to be discerning in their relationships and sexual behaviours and to have fulfilling relationships.

The DfES Sex and Relationship Guidance from 2000 says:

“Effective sex and relationship education is essential if young people are to make responsible and well-informed decisions about their lives” and that “schools should have a sex and relationship education programme tailored to the age and the physical and emotional maturity of the children.”

As a school we recognise the impact of social media, the media and the digital world on our children and young people. We aim to deliver an RSE programme that recognises and addresses this. Safeguarding our children and young people now and in their future, is an important element of our RSE programme and will include communicating the importance of consent.

The following quotation demonstrates how RSE contributes to spiritual, moral, social and cultural development as defined by OfSTED:

The spiritual development of pupils is shown by their:

- ability to be reflective about their own beliefs, religious or otherwise, that inform their perspective on life and their interest in and respect for different people's faiths, feelings and values
- sense of enjoyment and fascination in learning about themselves, others and the world around them
- use of imagination and creativity in their learning
- willingness to reflect on their experiences.

The moral development of pupils is shown by their:

- ability to recognise the difference between right and wrong and to readily apply this understanding in their own lives, recognise legal boundaries and, in so doing, respect the civil and criminal law of England
- understanding of the consequences of their behaviour and actions
- interest in investigating and offering reasoned views about moral and ethical issues and ability to understand and appreciate the viewpoints of others on these issues.

The social development of pupils is shown by their:

- use of a range of social skills in different contexts, for example working and socialising with other pupils, including those from different religious, ethnic and socio-economic backgrounds
- willingness to participate in a variety of communities and social settings, including by volunteering, cooperating well with others and being able to resolve conflicts effectively...

What does our RSE Curriculum Include?

Attitudes and Values

- learning the importance of values and individual conscience
- learning the value of stable and loving relationships, whether in the context of marriage, civil partnership or other family models, for the nurture of children
- learning about the value of respect, love and care
- exploring, considering and understanding moral dilemmas
- learning to respect and value difference and diversity including diverse family models, genders and sexualities
- learning about the rights and responsibilities to oneself and others
- understanding responsibility for one's own safety and that of others both in the real and digital world
- understanding the importance of equality concerning genders and sexuality
- learning that violence and coercion in relationships is unacceptable

Skills

- learning to recognise one's own emotions and those of others
- learning to manage emotions and relationships with confidence and sensitivity
- learning to manage change
- developing self-respect
- learning how to use appropriate language in the real and the digital world
- learning to be empathetic to others
- learning to make choices based on an understanding of difference and with an absence of prejudice
- learning how to identify risk in relationships both in the real and digital world
- learning how to recognise and avoid exploitation and abuse
- learning how to keep oneself safe and how to extricate oneself from an unsafe situation
- developing critical thinking
- learning to make and carry out informed decisions
- developing decision-making skills both in the real and the digital world
- developing an appreciation of the consequences of choices both in the real and digital world
- learning to manage conflict and developing negotiation skills
- learning how to cope with and resisting unwelcome peer pressure
- learning to communicate openly and respectfully about relationships and sex
- learning how to ask for help and accessing advice/services

Knowledge and Understanding

- learning and understanding emotional and physical development at appropriate stages
- learning about the impact of stereotyping and negative language
- learning and understanding reproduction
- learning about a safe and healthy lifestyle based on accurate information
- understanding the positive benefits of loving, rewarding and responsible relationships
- learning protective behaviours
- understanding the nature of consent
- learning about the impact of coercion and violence
- knowing where to seek appropriate help and advice

All these elements will be delivered in an age appropriate manner.

Equal Opportunities

We recognise that children have varying needs regarding RSE depending on their circumstances and background. The school believes that all people should have access to RSE that is relevant to their particular needs. To achieve this, the school's approach to RSE will take account of:

- Some pupils may have learning, emotional or behavioural difficulties, or physical disabilities that result in particular RSE needs at times which we will support. It may also mean that they have difficulty accessing the RSE curriculum. We will assess their need and provide an appropriate RSE curriculum.

- Different ethnic and cultural groups may have different attitudes to RSE. The school will consult pupils and parents/carers about their needs, take account of their views and promote respect for and understanding of the views of different ethnic and cultural groups in line with safeguarding and schools statutory duty to keep pupils safe and deliver certain elements of the statutory RSE curriculum.
- Some of our pupils will go on to define themselves as Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual or Trans (LGBT). Some pupils may have LGBT parents/carers, brothers or sisters, other family members and/or friends. All our pupils will meet and work with LGBT people both now and in the future. Our approach to RSE will include sensitive, honest and balanced consideration of sexuality. We will challenge society's heterosexual dominant discourse. We actively tackle homophobic bullying.
- We recognise that our pupils may come from a variety of family situations and home backgrounds. We will take care to ensure that there is no stigmatisation of children based on their home circumstances.

How is RSE Provided?

1. This school has a caring ethos that models and supports positive relationships between all members of the school community.
2. Within the taught, age-appropriate, RSE programme within Personal Social and Health Education (PSHE).
3. Within Science as stipulated by the national curriculum and/or as negotiated with the PSHE coordinator.
4. Through other curriculum areas for example Drama, English etc.
5. Through assemblies.
6. Through pastoral support.
7. By the provision of appropriate leaflets and other information sources.
8. Via drop-in clinics or other forms of enhance provision.
9. Via targeted intervention, where appropriate, with vulnerable individuals.
10. Delivery in response to incidents.

Teaching, Learning and Assessment

All the following elements are essential elements in providing quality RSE.

Teaching and Learning Methods

Teaching and learning best practice will be applied, this includes active learning methods and varied strategies that promote co-operation, support participation and negotiation, encourage reflection and consider risk reduction.

A Safe Learning Environment

In order for PSHE or RSE to be conducted safely the following will be in place:

- Group agreements or ground rules are negotiated, explained, displayed and referred to wherever appropriate. (When receiving external visitors, they will have sight of and understanding of the ground rules/group agreement.)
- No one in the classroom will be expected to answer a personal question.
- Distancing techniques such as the use of scenarios, will be used to help to keep pupils safe. There will be no need for anyone to discuss their own personal issues.
- Confidentiality will be clearly explained. Pupils will understand how disclosures will be handled. We will not expect a group to keep what is discussed within the classroom.
- Pupils will be expected to engage and listen during lessons, however it is accepted that sometimes it is inappropriate for them to be expected to take part in the discussion.
- In most cases, the correct names for body parts will be used.
- The meanings of words will be explained in a sensible and factual way.
- Humour is an important element of the PSHE classroom, however we will laugh together.
- Signposting to sources of support when dealing with sensitive issues

Groupings

RSE takes place within the children's usual classes as deemed appropriate and relevant with the pupil's usual teacher. The specific lesson where children learn about anatomical names will take place with Year two only and their teachers. It is important that both genders learn about each other's changes etc. It is also important to note that at times, friendship groupings may be the safest way for pupils to discuss an issue. It will be left to the teacher's discretion to make these decisions.

Asking and Answering Questions

Teachers will attempt to answer pupil's questions and concerns in a sensitive, age and development appropriate manner. Individual teachers will use their skill and discretion in these situations, and if necessary, refer to the PSHE coordinator for advice and support.

Teachers will apply the following principles:

1. Clear guidance will be established about what is appropriate and inappropriate in a whole class setting- ground rules will help to achieve this.
2. If a pupil's question is inappropriate to address the whole class, the teacher will acknowledge the question and attend to it later on an individual basis.
3. Personal questions should be referred to the ground rules.
4. Teachers will set the tone by speaking in a matter-of-fact way and ensuring that pupil's discussion issues in a way which encourages thoughtful participation. As previously mentioned, humour may be used appropriately.
5. If a teacher is concerned that a pupil is at risk in any way, including sexual abuse or exploitation, the usual safeguarding procedures will be followed.

Visitors

A visitor can enrich, but not replace, the RSE curriculum as a planned event with the teacher present. It is particularly useful when visitors have expertise and/or provide a service to pupils.

Resources

Teaching resources will be selected on the basis of their appropriateness to pupils and their impact.

Continuity, Progression and Assessment

Continuity and progression will be generated through the adoption of a whole school approach to the planning and delivery of outcomes covering knowledge, skills and attitudes developed in response to the baseline (needs) assessment of pupils building on previous/existing knowledge, experience and understanding. Baseline , self, peer and end of module assessments will contribute to the effective delivery of RSE.

Pupils existing knowledge needs to be the starting point for all RSE work. Needs assessment will be built into some lesson planning as each group may have different knowledge, experience and understanding.

The high levels of expectation for the quality of the work produced in RSE will be the same expectations as in any other subject area.

The elements of RSE that form part of the Science curriculum are assessed in accordance with the requirements of the national curriculum. Learning from other elements of RSE is assessed as part of the PSHE provision and builds on existing school systems. (See PSHE policy.)

Parental Concerns and Withdrawal of Pupils

We work in active partnership with parents/carers, value their views and keep them informed about our RSE provision. If a parent/carer has any concerns about the RSE provision, we will take time to address their concerns and allay any fears they may have. If parents/carers decide to withdraw their child, we shall work with them and their child to explore possible alternative provision and will work to ensure the safety of that child.

Parents have a legal right to withdraw their children from dedicated sex education lessons delivered outside the science curriculum. They do not have a right to withdraw their children from those aspects of RSE that are taught in national curriculum Science or where RSE arises naturally in other subject areas.

Parents are invited to join us before the lesson is taught to see the resources/ video used and ask any questions.

Personnel and Training

There is a PSHE coordinator who is regularly trained and updated in this fast moving subject area. They are responsible for RSE.

To ensure quality delivery of RSE, the staff delivering RSE have appropriate and regular training to keep them updated. The school is committed to ensuring that everyone involved with teaching, or supporting the teaching of RSE receives appropriate and ongoing professional development in order to maintain a whole school consistency and high standards for the children/young people in our care.

All new staff will receive a copy of the RSE policy.

Monitoring and Evaluation

The programme is regularly evaluated by the PSHE coordinator. The views of the pupils and teachers who deliver the programme, will be used to make changes and improvements to the programme on an ongoing basis. The needs assessment built into the lessons will also inform any changes to the curriculum.

PSHE receives the same teaching and learning monitoring and support as other subjects. The PSHE coordinator receives time in order to carry out this process.

Consultation, Policy Development and Review

In order for everyone to be consulted effectively, it may be necessary to ensure that governors and parents receive awareness training and/or information about RSE on occasions.

The school will ensure that parents/carers are: made aware of the school's approach rationale for RSE through the policy; involved in the review of the RSE policy; made aware of the school's PSHE curriculum; and encourage them to support their child's learning at home through shared learning activities, if appropriate.

This policy document was produced in consultation with the entire school community, including parents, school staff, governors and any other appropriate stakeholders. This document is freely available to the entire school community. It has also been made available in the school website.

It will be reviewed on a biannual basis.
